

Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory Women in Science and Engineering

3rd Annual In-House Education Retreat (Virtual)

Equip yourself with evidence-based knowledge about current gender disparity issues facing women across STEM fields.
All genders and races are welcome!

Saturday, October 17th, 2020

This one-day Retreat will be fully virtual over Zoom.
We will begin at 9:00 AM and end at 5:30 PM (EST).

Keynote Speakers

- Seokhee Cho, PhD “Mechanism of STEM Talent Development for the Female Gifted From Childhood to Early Career Stages”
Professor at the School of Education; Director of the Center for Creativity and Gifted Education at St. John’s University
- Susanna Harris, PhD “Together Alone: The Untold Stories of Mental Health Struggles in Academia”
Founder & CEO of PhD Balance; Marketing Lead at Grant Engine
- Lauren Spring, MD “Gender Disparities and Discrimination in Medicine”
Program Director of Psychiatry Residency Training,
Renaissance School of Medicine at Stony Brook University
- Maryam Zaringhalam, PhD “This Is What a Scientist Looks Like: Using Wikipedia to Increase Representation for Women in STEM”
National Library of Medicine, NIH; Senior Producer at The Story Collider; Leadership at 500 Women Scientists

Also, additional talks about mental health, science communication, and gender parity

Follow us on Twitter (@CSHL_WISE) and Instagram (wise_cshl)
for Retreat updates and more information about our other projects!

